

Here to help

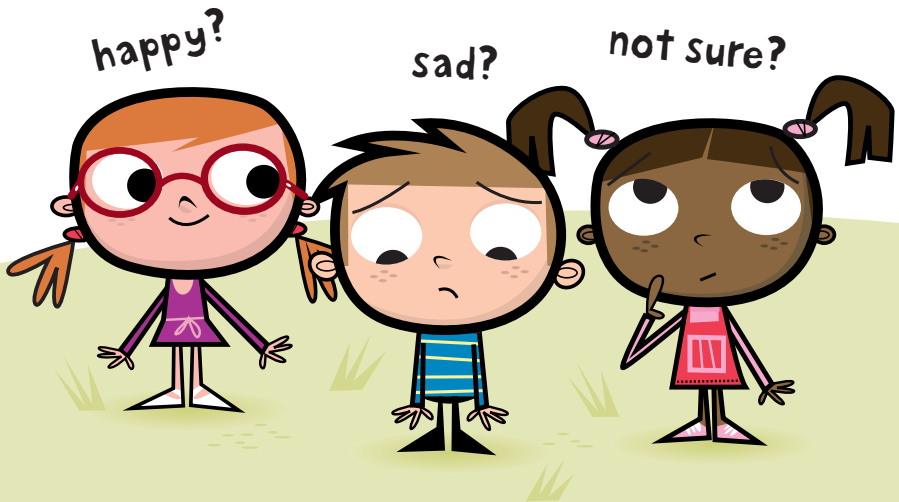

Sometimes families have problems.
That's why Cafcass workers try to help.

Remember, what's happening is not your fault.

hello i'm your
cafcass worker.
some people call me
a children's guardian

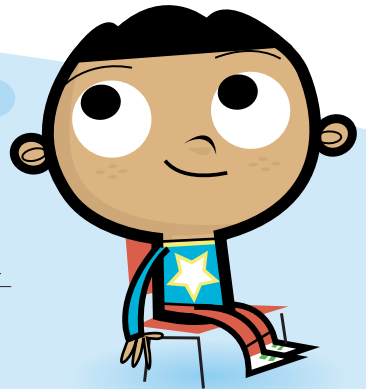

I know that children can sometimes feel happy, sad or not sure of what they want.

That's why I talk to you about your family and how you feel. I may also speak to other people who care about you.

what do you like most at home?

Then, to try to make things better, I write an important letter about how you feel and what everyone thinks is best for you.

I'm going to write an important letter about how you feel

This letter goes to a very wise person called a judge or a magistrate. They work in a court that helps families.

They listen to everyone and decide what is best for you.

After all, we want you to be happy. And it's my job to help make that happen.
